

Exam Invigilator

Casual Contract

£11.59 per hour (plus 12.1% holiday pay allowance)

We are seeking to recruit Exam Invigilators for GCSE and A-level exams.

The role will be on a casual basis to assist with examination supervision throughout the year. The number of days and hours worked will vary dependant on demand and season, and you do not need to commit to working for every season. The peak season is May to June when students take most of their public exams. The school will also require invigilators for exam series in November and January to March. There is flexibility on number of hours worked to suit the individual invigilator, providing the needs of the college are met and all exams are fully supervised.

Full training will be provided, and you will join a friendly and supportive team of experienced exam invigilators and exam assistants.

Duties and Responsibilities include:

- Assist with setting up examination venues (arranging tables, laying out equipment and examination papers)
- Distribute and collect examination papers/scripts/materials from candidates at the start and end of exams
- Ensure that the Examination Room is conducive to examination conditions and minimise distractions
- Supervise the entry and exit of candidates to and from the Examination Room
- Ensure that examinations begin and end on time as scheduled
- Deal sensitively with candidates who have special arrangements
